THE BAIRD FAMILY.
(BEARD)

DAVID BAIRD.

Do not find any connection between the families of David Beard of Bardstown, Ky. & David Beard of the 1796 Surveying Party.

Colonial families of the U.S. of America; edited by G.N. McKenzie (1914) vol. 4, p. 440, gives the following information;

Henry Weaver Scott, of Owensboro, Ky.; b near Boston, Nelson Co. Ky., July 2, 1814; d Aug. 12, 1883, Owensboro, Ky.; was a Surveyor & School Teacher in early life & later County Sheriff & County Judge at time of death, having held public office for 30 years; m Catherine Beard, dau of John & Rebecca Ann(Nichols) Beard and cousin of David Beard after whom Bradstow was named.

Early history of Cleveland, Ohio, by Col. Chas. Whittlesey, (1867) pg. 189, lists David Fearn under the heading Employees of the Company. under heading Surveying Party of 1796, in which mention is made of Superintendent, General Moses Cleaveland, and other Surveyors of the Company and officers.

pg. 276 under heading Surveying party of 1797, David Beard is also listed under Employees.

pg. 232 & pg. 233, David Beard is listed as having drawn lot No. 3 and the names drawing No. 3 were to do settling duties in the year 1799, agreeable to said lottery.

The History of Kentucky, by Lewis Collins; Rev. enl. & brought down to 1874 by Richard H. Collins (1874) vol. 1, pg. 22, mentions the town of Bardstown established in Nov. 1783. Vol. 2, pg. 17 mentions Bardstown in Nelson Co. established in 1783, called Bairdstown. Vol. 2, pg. 644 under towns of Nelson. Bardstown, the county seat was established by the legislature of Virginia in 1788, as Bairdstown, after David Baird, one of the original proprietors of the 160 acres on which it was laid off.

The New England historical & genealogical register; index of persons (1906) pg. 49 lists those by the name of Baird and on pg. 79 lists those by the name of Beard, Bearde, Beardes and Bierd. Thus proving that generally they are not the same family.

Baird & Beard families; by Fermine Baird Catchings. (c 1918) gives the following information; pg. 53;

In the Chronicle of Bards by Seilhamer, he says; In Scotland the family surname has been written Baird for many generations. In Ireland for a century and a half after the Plantation it was often written Beard than Baird. The American family (Archibald Baird) has adopted the uniform spelling Baird. Archibald, an emigrant ancestor, wrote his name Beard and his second son, William, signed a deed on record Baird. He says the modern Bairds were the sept of the Bardes. Archibald Beard settled in Newcastle Co. Delaware. He bought Carroll's Delight in the western part of what is now Adams Co. Pennsylvania.

The Finleys & McKnights were associated with the Beards at Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian Church in 1783. I think they must have been neighbors & possibly relatives of the Robert Baird line, intermarriages causing confusion in separating the lines. This Archibald is said to have had; Richard, b 1736, who lived in Peters twp. Franklin Co.; William, b in 1738; David, 1744-1815; Rev. _____, who is supposed to have married Miss Potter in Ireland.

William Beard, son of Archibald, died at Bardstown in 1802. He was reared at Hamiltonban twp. York, now Adams Co. Pa. He owned property in Carroll's Delight and sold it. Tradition says he visited Kentucky first in 1768. Salt was scarce and he with three men, Brown, Evans and Doe, went down the Ohio River on a flatboat to the Salt Lick of the Kentucky. The tradition says Doe was killed and William Baird & Mr. Evans returned to their homes in Virginia. Later William and his brother, Richard, went to Kentucky and located at Danville. Richard built a cabin which entitled him to 1000 acres but he returned to Pennsylvania, and William settled where Bardstown (originally Bairdstown) now stands. The documents on record at Bardstown, Nelson Co. show Richard's ownership of lands adjacent to Bardstown in 1780-88.

William built a cabin about four miles north of Bardstown & the source of Buffalo Creek. On this property is a graveyard where four generations of Bairds or Bards are buried. William and his son, James, both lie there.

Bardstown was originally called Salem, & there is an announcement extant giving the initial step toward the creation of Bardstown as the county seat, by William Baird on David Baird's property.

William was a surveyor and drew the first map of Louisville in 1779. He married Mary Kincaid Brazdale, dau of Joseph Kincaid and widow of John Brazdale. She was born in Virginia in 1755, & died in Bardstown in 1825. She was the sister of Captain Joseph Kincaid, who was killed at the Battle of Blue Lick. They had; James, b 1782 at Bardstown. Served with a troop of horse raised in Nelson Co. Ky. in 1812. Buried in family graveyard. He married Martha Adams. David, b at Bardstown in 1785; died in 1818. He married 1st. Elizabeth Waters of Bullitt Co. Ky.; 2d Margaret _____. Ebenezer, b at Bardstown in 1787; married Nancy _____. William, b at Bardstown in 1790; died at Oaceola, Ark. He married Margaret Beeler. Isaac, b at Bardstown in 1797; died at Greenville, Ky. 1878.

This line is fully traced by Mr. Seilhamer in his "Chronicle". I have only taken out of it the parts that will assist in tracing the lines in this book which he has not traced in his "Chronicle". F.B.C.

pg. 133. The Bairds of Bardstown, Ky. From a letter from A.B. Baird, Hartford, Ky. 1885; My grandfather, James Baird, was born & raised at Newton, not far from Londonderry, North of Ireland. His father's name was Thomas, & he died in Ireland about 1780. The family came from Scotland to Ireland in the latter part of the 17th century. They lived in the neighborhood of Glasgow. Four of my grandfather's brothers came to America a short time before the Revolution, to wit; Robert, John, Thomas and William, brothers of James.

Three of these were in the War and lived through it. After the war, they came to Kentucky and settled in a place in central Kentucky, calling it Bairdstown, now Bardstown.

James, on the death of his father, about 1780 came to America; spent one year at Chambersburg, Pa. In 1783, he moved over the mountain to Red Stone, now called Brownsville, Fayette Co. Pa. There he lived one year. In 1785, he came down the river to the Falls of the Ohio, where the city of Louisville is now. On this trip several of the crew were wounded by Indians, among them James. He went to Bardstown where he lived till 1790. He then moved to Hartford, where he lived until his death in 1826.

William, brother of James, unmarried at that time, went to Hartford and carried on a tan-yard till 1794, when he joined Wayne, having served under Anthony Wayne in the Revolutionary War. After the army was disbanded, William Baird settled in Pennsylvania. He married and raised a family. One of the sons of Thomas moved to Fort Nash, Nashville, Tenn. Another of this family went to Indiana. One whose name was Robert was Territorial Secretary. (The father of John F. Baird (of Terre Haute, Ind.) was a cousin of James (who was son of James and father of A.B. Baird, the writer of the letter.)

James, the son of James, who came to America in 1780, was born in 1781 in Newton, Ireland; died 1868. A.B. was his youngest son. (These seem to be descendants of William and John of Limavady, Ireland.)

This letter proves that Thomas and family were from Ireland, tho A.B. was mistaken about Thomas dying in Ireland. It was in Pennsylvania. John Baird said to have been born about 1725, was very likely Captain John Baird, brother of Thomas, James, Moses and Robert, possibly sons or nephews of John of Christiana Hundred. Tradition says he went to Kentucky and Tennessee in 1760 and met Daniel Boone. He is supposed to have returned for a while to New Jersey. F.R.C.

Mr. Seilhamer says; John Baird presumed to be the son of John & Rebecca Baird, removed from Chester Co. Pa. with his brother, Thomas, about 1747 & settled in the Cumberland Valley taking up lands in Guilford township, Franklin Co. As his name does not appear on the Guilford tax list for 1851, it is probable that he removed to Peters, where he was a taxable at that time. He was appointed constable of the new township Fannet in 1754. He married Agnes McFall. Their children were; William, John, Francis, (b 1754), David, Isabella, Agnes, Jane.

History Butler Co. 1882.

James Beard, farmer, was born in Pennsylvania in 1777. He married in 1793 and had four children; John Beard, b Dec. 21, 1810; Jane Sample, b Oct. 9, 1806; Jacob Beard, b Dec. 14, 1802; and Perry Beard, b July 11, 1821. He moved to this county in 1807. His wife's name was Peggy and she was a native of Virginia. John, Jacob and Perry live on the same farm that their father originally entered and have been fortunate in life. W.L. Beard was in the military service, both in the Mexican War and during the Rebellion.

Memorial History of Butler Co. 1894. pg. 387.

The mother of Jacob Beard, Margaret Blue, was born Oct. 4, 1781, and died Feb. 14, 1867. In 1894, Jacob Beard was one of the two children of James & Peggy Beard, who was living. His brother, Perry was living in Franklin Co. Indiana.

pg. 400; same history;

William A. Beard, only son of Jesse & Louisa (Clark) Beard. The former a son of James and Charlotte (Bevis) Beard. The paternal grandfather settled on a farm on the present site of Scipio and there kept a country tavern. The father of William Beard was an intelligent farmer and quite influential in the community. He died at the early age of 47, June 21, 1834.

Will of John Blue, Sr.

In the Name of God, Amen. I, John Blue, Senr., of Hampshire Co. and State of Virginia, being weak in body but sound in mind and memory, and calling to mind the mortality of my body and that it is appointed for all men once to die, do this sixteenth day of October, in the Year of Our Lord, one thousand seven hundred and ninety, make and ordain this my last will and testament in manner following; this is to first of all I commit my soul to God that gave it and my body to be decently interr'd at the discretion of my Executors and as touching my worldly affairs with which it has pleased God to Bless me, I will, bequeath and devise as follows; viz, first I will and bequeath unto my beloved wife, Margaret, the one third part of the land or tract I now live on (which I bought of Job Welton) during her widowhood for her own use and raising my young children, I also give and will unto my said wife the old Black roan'r mare saddle and bridle, one milk cow, one feather bed and furniture thereunto belonging, for her own use and disposal.

I also will and devise unto my son Uriah the old place he now lives on with one fourth part of the New Survey adjoining him, to him and his heirs forever, he my said son paying one hundred pounds, forty pounds of the aforesaid sum to be paid to my son, Peter, in one twelve months after my decease or to his heirs and I also will unto my son Abraham forty pounds, (out of the aforesaid sum of one hundred pounds) or to his heirs three years after my decease and I also will the remaining sum of twenty pounds unto my daughter, Elizabeth, five years after my decease to be paid to her or her heirs by said son, Uriah. I also will and devise unto my son John the tract of land he now lives on, which I bought of William Welton, and the one fourth part of the New Survey adjoining him and to his heirs forever, except seven acres of bottom at the upper end next the rocks being part of the aforesaid tract on the river which I bought of the said Welton, said seven acres I will and devise unto my son Uriah and his heirs forever, he my said son John, paying one hundred pounds, fifty pounds of the aforesaid hundred. I will that my son John pay unto my son Jacob two years after my decease £25 per year or his heirs, also I will that my son John pay fifty pounds being the other half of the aforesaid hundred, unto my son David or to his heirs to be paid five years after my decease. I give and will unto my aforesaid son John, my silver cup and to his heirs forever. I also will that my aforesaid wife, Margaret have the old dwelling house for her and her children to live in during her abode on the aforesaid premises ("turn over"). I also will and devise unto my sons Michael and Garrett all that tract of land I now live on which I bought of Job Welton to be divided equally amongst them two according to quantity and quality, share and share, excepting my aforesaid wife third during her widowhood to them and their heirs forever and also I will and devise unto my aforesaid two sons--Michael and Garrett the one half of the New Survey to them and their heirs forever, son Michael paying my son Benjamin fifty pounds five years after my decease, or his heirs, and my son, Garrett to pay my son William fifty pounds or his heirs when of age. I also will and give unto my son, Jesse, Sixty pounds when of age, but if he dies before age Sixty pounds are to be divided among all my children. I give unto my daughter Hannah, fifty pounds when of age, if she dies before age the said fifty pounds are to be divided among the rest of my children. I give unto my daughter Margaret, thirty pounds when of age, but if she dies before age, the said thirty pounds are to be divided among the rest of my children, and I will that all my personal estate be sold excepting a Sorrel horse and a mare colt I gave to my son Jacob, a Gray mare and yearling colt to son Abraham, and a Bay mare and colt to son David, a young Black mare two years old to son Benjamin, and I will a cow and calf to my daughter Elizabeth, and after all legacies are paid and other charges, I will that the remainder of my personal estate, if any, be divided equally among all my children, I also make and ordain my two sons, Uriah and John my whole and sole Executors in trust of this my last will and Testament,

In Witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal the year and day above written. I revoke and disanul all former wills and legacies--Done before assigned.

Copied from newspaper clipping; in possession of Miss Nora Schwab.

"The history of Hampshire County, Virginia (Maxwell & Swisher), page 701 says; "The Blue family were among the earliest settlers of Hampshire county, if not the very earliest. There were three brothers, JOHN, URIAH, and MICHAEL, the two latter making their home near Shepherdstown, while John settled near Romney, and was the founder of the Blue family in Hampshire County."

Family records state that this family came from Holland at an early date and that John Blue settled in Hampshire county about 1725. The son, John, Jr. who was 12 years of age when he came to Virginia with his father, died in 1791, aged 78 years. This would place his birth as the year 1713.

The wills of John Blue, Sr. and John, Jr. were both recorded in Romney, Va. The will of John Blue, Sr. dated 1770, names his wife, Catherine, and sons, John, Michael, Uriah, and Abraham. The will of John Blue, Jr. was probated 1791, and names his wife, Margaret; sons Uriah, Peter, Abraham, John, Jacob, David, Michael, Garrett, Benjamin, William, Jesse, and daughters, Elizabeth, Hannah and Margaret.

Uriah Blue and his brother Michael, were the Miami county pioneers. Miami county deeds also show the presence of a Barnabas Blue, perhaps a cousin of Michael and Uriah.

Michael Blue died in Miami Co. Dec. 21, 1834, aged 79 yrs. 9 mo. 26 days(born 1755) and is buried in the old Baptist cemetery at Staunton. No record of a wife or children has been found but from the duplication of names in records, he probably had a family.

URIAH BLUE, a Revolutionary soldier, was born Aug. 8, 1752, in Hampshire Co. Virginia, and died Mar. 2, 1829 in Miami Co. His wife, Ruth died May 27, 1819, age 63 yrs. Both are buried on the old Blue farm. The stone of Ruth reads; "Here lies the mother of Uriah Blue, wife of Uriah Blue, Sr., who departed this life, May 27, 1819, aged 63 yrs. 6 mo. 21 days." The will of Uriah Blue, recorded May 23, 1829, names his children;

1. Michael Blue--served in War of 1812. Deeds show his wife to be Catherine.
2. Uriah Blue, Jr. died July 8, 1849, aged 66 yrs. He married, 1st, Jane, who died July 25, 1819; 2d, Oct. 20, 1820 Margaret Gerard. She was Margaret DeWeese, widow of John Gerard (son of Nathaniel).
3. James Blue die May 30, 1819, aged 45 yrs. His wife was Mehitable Gerard (dau of Nathaniel) & their children are named in the will of Uriah Blue, Sr.; Gerard, Blackford, Lloyd and Abner Blue.
4. Barnabas Blue married July 24, 1806 Mary Hilliard, dau of John & Elizabeth Greene Hilliard.
5. John Blue married Rachel Sayers, Dec. 10, 1818 (dau of Thomas & Frances (Dye) Sayers. See Dye family, Sunday Journal, Mar. 29, 1936. Their children, also named in will of Uriah Blue, Sr., were Fanny, Betsy, Hetty, Ruth, & William Sutton Blue.
6. Elizabeth Herrill, named in her father's will.
7. Sarah Lennon, named in her father's will.
8. Martha Blue, married August 26, 1806 Bennett W. Langley.

It might be well to give in this article the children of Barnabas Blue, Sr. so that they cannot be confused with the children of Michael or Uriah.

Barnabas Blue owned 150 acres in Section 12, Town 2, Range 10, and through deeds relating to this property, we find his children. His wife is called Charity, also Talithcuny in these deeds. In 1819 Barnabas Blue & wife, Charity deeded part of this tract to Solomon Blue & in 1822 to Barnabas Blue, Jr. Barnabas Blue, Sr. died prior to Oct. 1827, as at that time his children deeded their "One-seventh" share, part of the 150 acres of land, belonging to Barnabas Blue, Sr. and Talithacuny Blue, his wife. Five of these children were;

1. Martha Blue sells to Uriah Blue her 1/7th part of 150 acres
2. Uriah Blue & wife, Charity sell to John Knoop.
3. Solomon Blue sells to John Knoop his 1/7th share.
4. Frederick Blue & wife, Mary, of Hamilton Co. Ind. sell to John Knoop.
5. Barnabas Blue, Jr. & Fanny, his wife sell his 1/7th share. Solomon Blue married Lelitha Morris, July 12, 1806. Uriah Blue married Charity Kiser, Oct. 11, 1808. Barnabas Blue, Jr. married Frances Davis, Feb. 19, 1811.

SAMUEL CRAIG, the Pioneer to Western Pennsylvania.

"It is tradition that the Craigs of Samuel Craig's line of ancestry fled from the religious persecution in Scotland to the North of Ireland, but finding it little better in Ireland came to America in 1684; exiles for their allegiance to the principles of Presbyterianism."

"An Andrew Craig is of record as being "Imported in October, 1684, by John Forbed, who settled in Middlesex County, New Jersey".

(Genealogical Notes, History of Old Tennent Church, N.J., pg. 462.)

"On pg. 311 in a book entitled 'The Early Germans of New Jersey' by Theodore Freylinghuysen Chambers, in the Newbury Library, Chicago, Illinois, is the following record;

'Andrew Craig, born 1662, died Oct. 6, 1739, age 77 yrs; came to New Jersey with the Scotch in Gov. Laurie's time. Married Susanna _____, born 1668; died Apr. 6, 1727, aged 59. In March 1700, he was admitted as an associate of Elizabethtown purchasers, and drew Lot 162 on S.W. side of Rahway river, within the bounds of the present Westfield. (Hatfield History of Elizabeth). Held the office of Alderman. His will dated Sept. 28, 1738, probated Oct. 24, 1739; Children;

1. Andrew
2. John, b 1695, died Aug. 22, 1758, aged 63, buried in St. John's churchyard, Elizabeth.

6. Mary
7. Martha.#

"The foregoing proves conclusively that John Craig was the father and Andrew Craig the grandfather of Samuel Craig, the pioneer to Western Pennsylvania.

"Whether the father of this family was the John Craig who was in the battle of Bothwell Bridge, we do not know, but there are two branches of the Craig Family that came to New Jersey according to record and tradition in 1684. An Andrew Craig who settled near Elizabeth, New Jersey, who was probably an older brother of John Craig, our ancestor, the father of Samuel Craig, the pioneer to what is now Westmoreland Co. Pa.

"After an interval of about sixty-five years, during which we have no record or tradition of the movements of the family who came in 1684, we find the Samuel Craig branch of it in Warren County, New Jersey, at or near Belvidere on the Delaware river. They were there as early as 1753, perhaps earlier. Across the Delaware, a few miles distant, was the Craig or Irish Settlement, in Northampton Co., Pa. founded by Thomas Craig and brothers and sisters. The relationship between these people and Samuel Craig of Belvidere is not known to the writer, but they were probably related.

"Samuel Craig married Elizabeth McDonald, who was born in Scotland, and whose name would indicate Highland ancestry. They became the parents of nine children, among them twin daughters who so closely resembled each other that their own mother could not distinguish one from the other except by having them wear different colored beads.

"Of their life in New Jersey little is known. Smallpox entered the family and Mrs. Craig and one of the twin daughters and another child died within the space of three days, and the other twin, Esther, lost the sight of one eye from the disease. The names of the surviving children were; John, Alexander, Samuel, Rose, Elizabeth, Esther and Mary.

"The name of Samuel Craig's second wife was Jane Boyd, and she was of Irish birth; their children were Andrew, Joseph, William, Jane, Nancy(or Agnes) and Rebecca.

"It is said that Samuel Craig and family started from New Jersey to Western Pennsylvania in 1766, but when on the mountains the Indians stole their horses and cows and they were compelled to return to a settlement. This settlement was probably in Lurgan township, Cumberland Co. Pa., which was situated in that part of the county which was afterward included in Franklin Co. as Lurgan township is given as Samuel Craig's place of residence when he bought his land in what is now Westmoreland Co. Pennsylvania.

"In December, 1769, Samuel Craig bought a tract of land on the eastern side of the Loyalhanna in what was then called th "Derry Settlement", from Thomas Burbridge, of thich business transaction the follwoing is the Article of Agreement copied ~~xxx~~ word for word and letter for letter as recorded in Deed bk. A, pg. 435, Westmoreland Co. records;

'Article of Agreement made and concluded on the Fifteenth day of December One Thousand and Seven Hundred and Sixty-nine by and between Thomas Burbridge of the County of Cumberland at the Loyalhanna of the one part and Samuel Craig of Lurgan township of the County of Cumberland of the other part. Witnesseth that whereas that Thomas Burbridge hath set over and delivered unto Samuel Craig one certain tract or survey of land lying at Loyalhanna at the mouth of crab tree run Containing Three Hundred acres more or less for the sum of Twenty Pounds lawful money of Pennsylvania to be paid part in money and part in merchantable goods to be paid at or upon the Tenth of January next and said Craig is to Deduct out of the aforesaid sum so much as will pay the surveyor for surveying of said Tract and at Payment of said sum said Burbridge is to give said Craig a sufficient Bill of sale for said tract and for the true performance of each and every of these articles we do bind ourselves our Heirs, executors administrators or assigns firmly by these presents in the Penal sum of Four Hundred Pounds money of Pennsylvania each one to the other and in whereof we do set our hands and seals the Day and Date above mentioned.

Thomas Burbridge (SEAL).

Samuel Craig (SEAL)

'Sealed and delivered in the presence of Laurence Irvin, Michael Horner, John Craig.'

'Westmoreland as Be it remembered that on the 2d day of February, 1785, the within named Thomas Burbridge came personally before me the subscriber one of the Commonwealth Justice of the Court of Common Pleas of the said county and he acknowledged the within instrument of writing to be his act and Deed and Desired that the same may be recorded as such.'

'Given under my hand and seal the Day and year above written,
Recorded February 4, 1785.

John Moor, Esquire.'

"In or near 1772--exact date unknown--Samuel Craig brought his family to live on this land and their cabin home was situated hear the Loyalhanna opposite the mouth of the Crab Tree.

"The early settlers were in constant dread of the Indians, and in 1774 there was great alarm in this region, and petitions were sent to Governor Penn from different places in Westmoreland Co. asking for protection, among them one from the house of John Shields, which was signed by John Shields, Arthur Denniston, John Denniston, Samuel Craig, John Craig, Alexander Craig, Thomas Burbridge and others. A small fort was erected on the hill near the present residence of the Matthew Shields heirs, on land owned by John Shields, and called Fort Shields, and here the people fled in times of danger. Not far from this fort, on land afterwards owned by Alexander Craig, a young man was buried who had been killed by the Indians. For many years a heap of stones marked his grave.

When the colonies were beginning to resist the excessive taxation of the mother country, and our patriotic "backwoodsmen" held their memorable meeting at Hannastown, May 16, 1775, and drew up the resolutions that have since been called "Westmoreland's Declaration of Independence", they proceeded to organize militia to drill for service should it become necessary to battle for their rights.

In the First Battalion Westmoreland Co. provincials, Colonel John Proctor, Commander, were Samuel Craig, and his three sons, John, Alexander and Samuel, Jr. (all the family who were able to bear arms); Samuel, Sr. was Lieutenant and Color Bearer, and his son Alexander held an office now unknown. These soldiers were ordered east in 1776 and suffered great hardships in that terrible march through an almost trackless wilderness and participated in a number of hard fought battles under General Washington; but in the latter part of 1777 many of them were sent back to protect the frontier from the depredations of the Indians, and served along the Western Border until the close of the Revolution.

"An extract from a letter dated November 15, 1897, written by Dr. Egle, State Librarian of Pennsylvania, is as follows; 'Samuel Craig, Sr. was commissioned Lieutenant in July, 1776, in Col. John Proctor's Battalion of Westmoreland Co. Militia.

"After his return to Western Pennsylvania he, under an order, was for some time acting Commissary and the duties of his office called him to Fort Ligonier. Before starting it is said he refused a guard, saying, "They would think the old man was cowardly," and he never reached Ligonier, as he was taken prisoner on Chestnut Ridge.

"In a diary kept by Thomas Galbraith at the building of Fort Ligonier is the following entry, 'Nov. 3d 1777, Monday. They likewise found a mare belonging to Samuel Craig who had been going to Ligonier for salt on Saturday, Nov. 1, 1777. He is supposed to be taken prisoner as his body could not be found.'

(Frontier Forts of Pa. Vol. 2; pg. 244.)

"In the writings of Mrs. Margaret C. Craig, relating to the capture of her grandfather, is the following; 'He was taken prisoner by the Indians on the Chestnut Ridge, his beautiful bay mare was found dead perforated by eight bullets. Fragments of paper were found strewn along the path to indicate the directions taken by the Indians. All efforts of his family to ascertain his fate were unavailing. Some exchanged prisoners reported afterward that an old man who was a prisoner with them would have been exchanged, at the same time if he had not been sick and unable to travel; it may have been Mr. Craig.'

NOTE: Since the foregoing was published the writer has learned that a grandson of Samuel Craig in the State of Indiana met an exchanged prisoner who told him that Samuel Craig and he were exchanged at the same time and that Samuel Craig died in Philadelphia when on his way home.

"The place of Samuel Craig's capture is believed to have been on the western slope of the Chestnut Ridge about eight or nine miles south of the "packsaddle" on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

"The History of Westmoreland County recorded that the Proctors, Lochreys, Craigs and Sloans were among the early members of Unity Presbyterian Church or Congregation. For several years prior to the erection of a church building, preaching services were held in "Proctor's Tent", and it is probable that there Samuel Craig may have heard the few sermons it was his privilege to hear after his arrival in the Derry Settlement.

"Of his traits of character we know very little except from inference, and this would indicate that he was a man of bravery and resolution; the fact that his sons were men of upright character, noted for honesty, truthfulness, and other noble qualities, would be an indication that their father not only possessed these characteristics but had trained his children in the paths of rectitude by precept and example. However, we are told a story of him that by way of jest he could draw on his imagination. There had been a political meeting in "Denniston's Town" (now New Alexandria), held by the party of opposite political views from himself, and he told that as he was going home after dark that night, he saw an object lying in the road and stirred it up with his staff, when it proved to be "His Satanic Majesty". "Why are you lying here, why are you not in Denniston's Town attending to business"? And Satan replied, 'Oh, there are Squire _____ and others (giving the names of Prominent men) attending to my business for me, so I do not need to trouble myself.' But we can

'No further seek his merit to disclose
Nor draw his frailties from their dread abode.'

"On April 25, 1783, letters of Administration were granted to the estate of Samuel Craig, deceased, by the Register of Wills in & for Westmoreland Co. Pa. to Jane Craig, his widow, and John Craig, and their bond taken in five hundred pounds. In the settlement of the estate, the older sons relinquished all claim to the land their father had owned, as they said they were able to provide for themselves and the land was divided between the younger sons.

"Thomas Burbridge, the man from whom Samuel Craig bought his land, arranged to have his home with the Craigs, and lived with them for many years, working with them and for them, and also hunting with them, and remained with them for seven years or more after the capture of Samuel Craig, but at length he disappeared, and they were never able to discover what became of him. (See the "History of the Backwoods" by A.W.Patterson, 1843.)

"It is said that the first settler on the land afterward owned by Samuel Craig was William Burbridge, who came there shortly after the capture of Fort Duquesne by General Forbes, who made what is called a "tomahawk improvement". He is said to have been killed by an Indian, with whom he was on friendly terms, because the Indian coveted a fine rifle owned by Burbridge. After the death of his brother, Thomas Burbridge obtained possession of his claim, & after the opening of the land office April 3, 1769, for the sale of land in this "New Purchase", became the legal owner. Thomas Burbridge was one of the original owners of at least part of the land within the present limits of New Alexandria before it came into the possession of Alexander Denniston.

ELIZABETH CRAIG THOM
Descendants.

"Elizabeth, daughter of Samuel and Elizabeth McDonald Craig, is said to have been born in 1757, and as that date is also claimed for the birth of her brother Samuel by his descendants, we conclude they must have been twins. It is a family tradition that Elizabeth was so small at birth, that (as it was expressed) they could put her into a quart pot and close the lid. She died June 11, 1826; married Joseph Thom, who was born in 1768 and died November 23, 1839. Joseph Thom came from Ireland to America in 1773. (In 1738 the Scotch Irish Presbyterians left Ireland and settled in Pennsylvania.) Served in the War of the Revolution and is mentioned in the Archives of Pennsylvania(6th Series, Vol. 11; pg. 189). Settled in Westmoreland Co. Pa. near Alexandria, went later to Scrunglass Creek, Armstrong Co. Pa. later to the mouth of the Clarion River, and finally to Jefferson Co. Indiana, about 1814, with his sons, Alexander C., and William Wilson Thom. Died and buried in Saluda graveyard, Jefferson Co. Indiana.

Mr. & Mrs. Joseph Thom had a family of ten children;

"I. Jane Thom, born Feb. 20, 1780, died when over 90 years of age at the home of her daughter Margaret in the West. Married Robert Cathcart. The following extract from a history of the family written by John Craig Hill, a grandson of Capt. John Craig, of Freeport, Pa. is of interest; "A nephew of grandfather's, was taken by grandfather when a boy and raised. His name was Robert Cathcart. When he came of age, he married Jane Thom a niece of grandfather's. Grandfather gave him a farm in the eastern part of Armstrong County. At that time there were few settlers in that vicinity and plenty of wolves. They had a flock of sheep and had to be very careful to keep the wolves from getting at them. On one occasion when Mr. Cathcart was away the wolves got after the sheep, and as Mrs. Cathcart opened the door to try to scare them away, the sheep all ran into the house, and she just got the door closed in time to keep the wolves from following. They kept howling around the cabin, and some tried to get in at the window, but these were met with shovels of hot coals. Mrs. Cathcart had to stay up all night, but in the morning the wolves left."

"It is recorded of Mrs. Jane Cathcart that "She was a woman of beautiful spirit."

Mr. & Mrs. Cathcart were the parents of fourteen children, the correct order of birth unknown;

THE FOSTER HISTORY.

Christopher Foster and his wife, Patience, and children came from England in 1635 on the ship, Abigail. The children born after coming to the U.S. were born in Southampton, Long Island.

Bamborough Castle, the home of the Fosters in England, is on the Eastern Coast of Northumberland. Bamborough Church, where the Fosters are buried, is located on the Farne Islands. The name of "Forester" now, "Foster" was first known in 1050, when Sir Richard Forester accompanied his brother-in-law, "William the Conqueror" to England.

Timothy Foster, born 1734, Southampton, Long Island, married Bethia Howell in 1758. Their children were;

Asa, born 1759

Luke, 1764

Gabriel, 1774 (my great-grandfather)

Zebulon, birthdate unknown.

He married a Miss Wingate & moved to Fulton Co. Illinois in 1830.

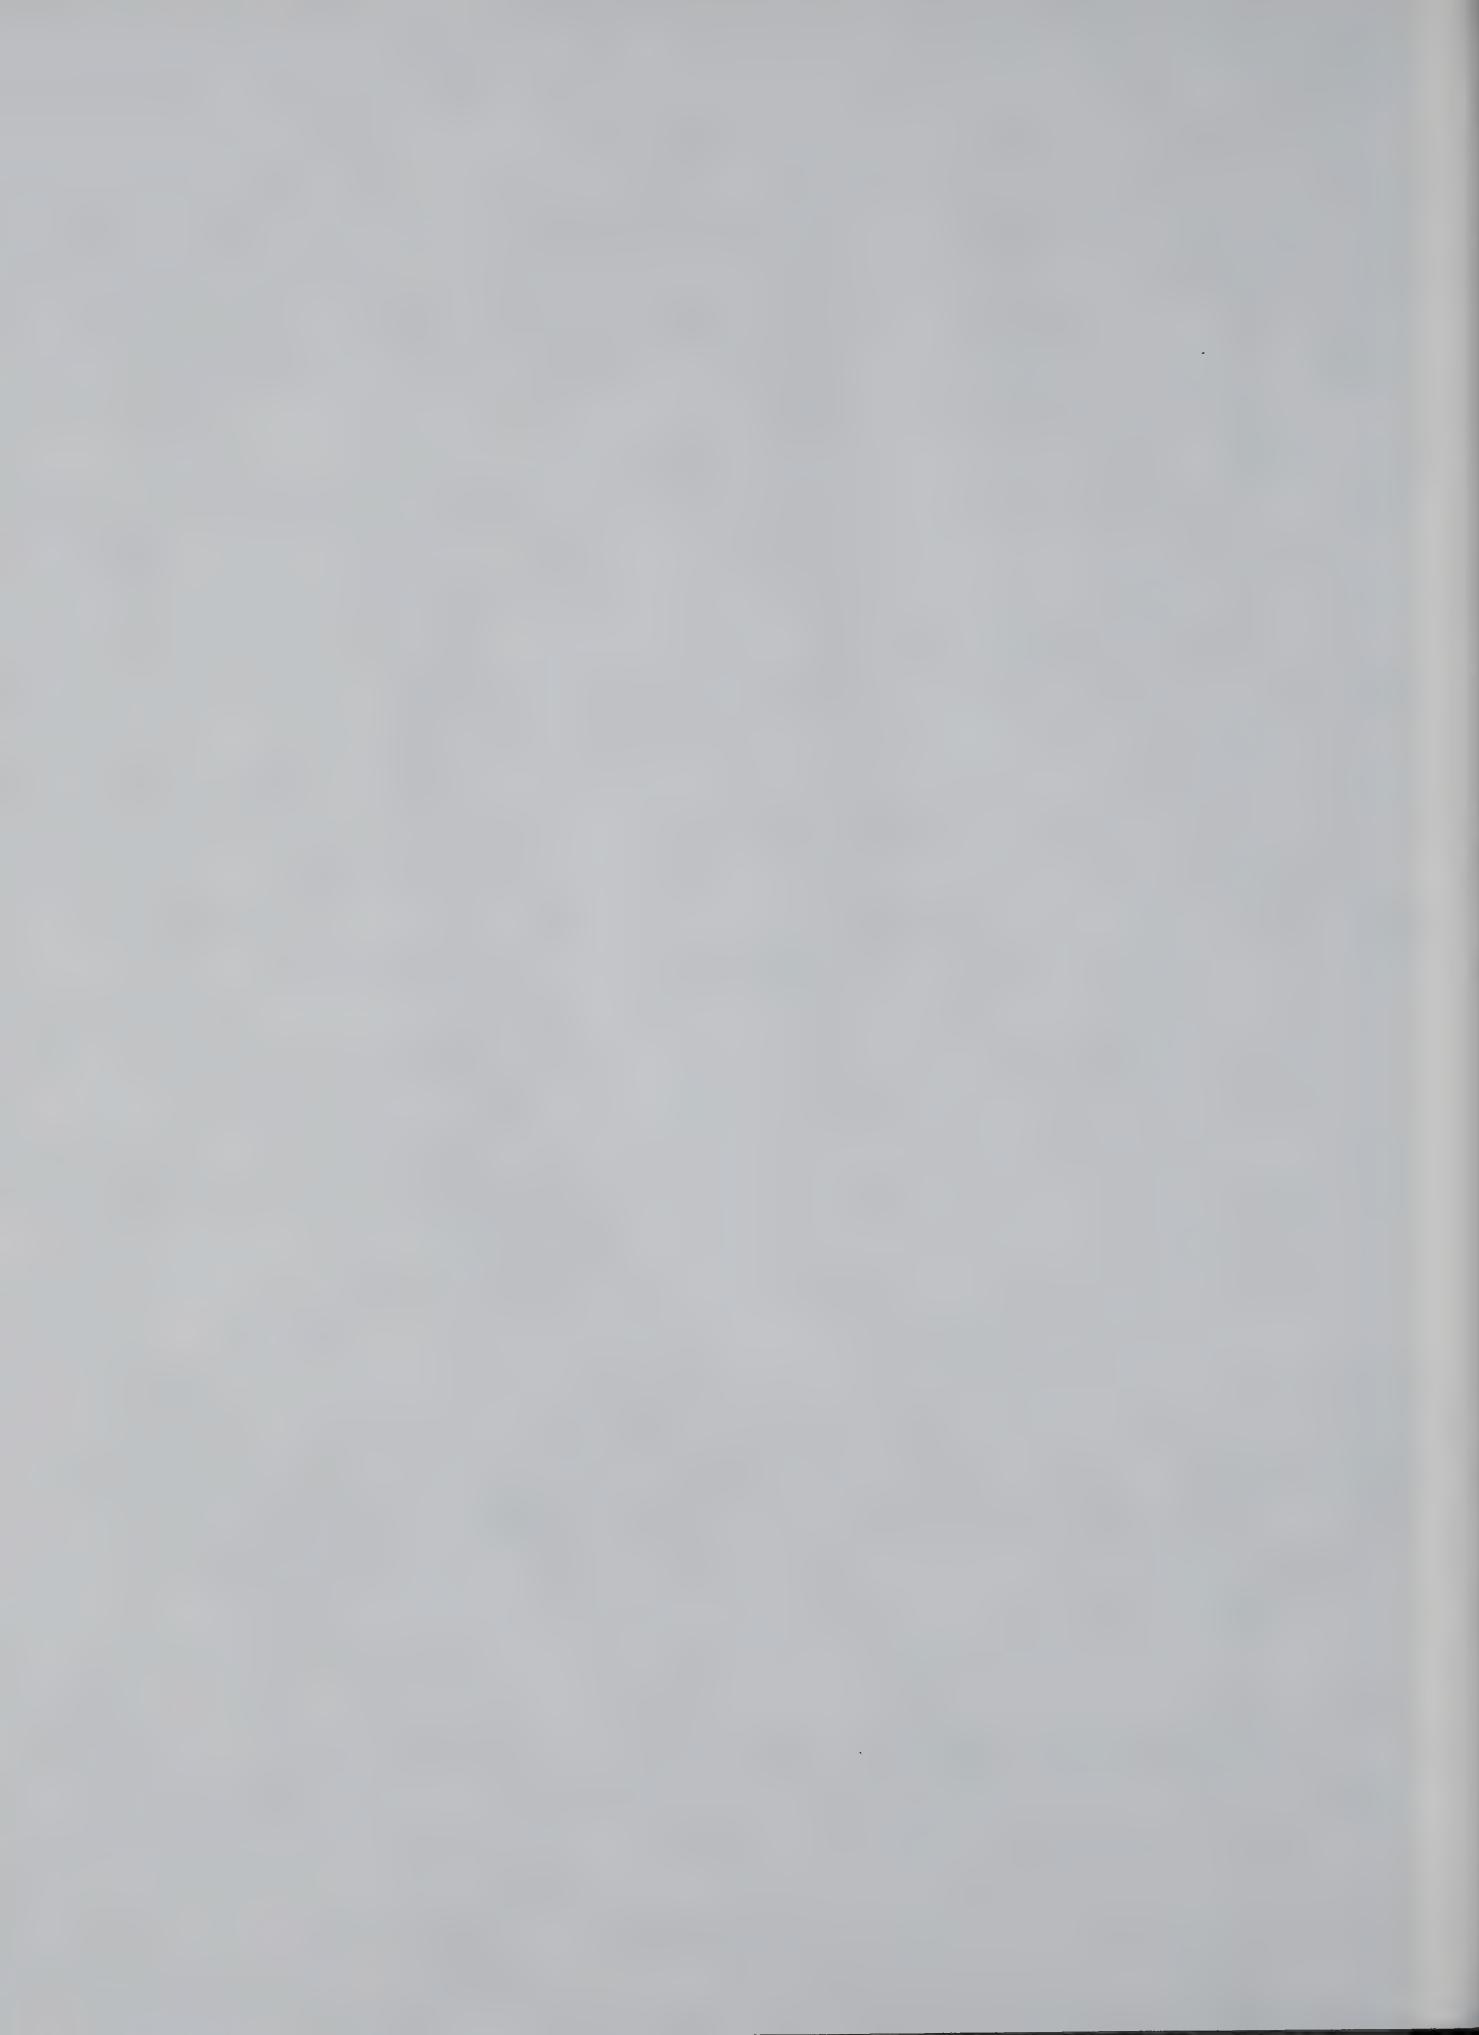

Timothy Foster & his family came to Ohio (Springdale, Hamilton County) in 1783. They moved to Jefferson County, Indiana near Pisgah in 1813, twenty-five miles from Madison, Indiana. The Foster History says it was below the Falls which now is known as Clifty Falls, below Madison.

Timothy Foster was a Revolutionary soldier and served in Captain Nathaniel Healey's Company and in Colonel Leonard's Regiment, August 1, 1775. He enlisted April 24, 1775 and served three months and two weeks. Foster History says he did not draw a pension and there were ten Timothy Fosters in the Revolutionary War. He is buried on the Foster farm near Pisgah, patented under Thomas Jefferson. Timothy was Gabriel's father, and died at the age of 85 years.

Christopher Foster first lived in Lynn, soon moved to Long Island.

Gabriel Foster was born in 1774, Southampton, L.I. He came to Ohio with his family in 1788 and lived for a time in Springfield township or Hamilton County (Springdale). He was my great grandfather. He married Pamelia M. Campbell in 1796, whose father, William Campbell, was a Revolutionary soldier, lived in Columbia, Hamilton Co. Ohio. Gabriel died in 1848, Jefferson Co. Indiana. In 1813 the family moved to Jefferson Co. near Pisgah, 25 miles below Clifty Falls, near Madison, Ind.

The Foster family owned a farm near Carthage, Ohio before moving to Columbia, Hamilton Co. Gabriel Foster is buried on the Foster farm near Pisgah, patented under Thomas Jefferson. He had three brothers, Asa, Luke and Zebulon. Asa, in later years, lived in Iowa. Zebulon moved to Iowa. Luke married in Hamilton County, Ohio; he lived in Illinois in 1830. His history comes later.

Gabriel Foster married Pamelia M. Campbell in 1796. Their children were; Hiram, born June 21, 1797; Asa, born Feb. 14, 1813; William, born Jan. 25, 1810; and Hannah, born 1799. Hannah married Nicholas Smith in Cincinnati and lived in Vincennes, Ind. Nancy died. Elizabeth's birthdate is unknown. She married A. Bassett and they had a son Harvey Bassett, who lived in Ft. Madison.

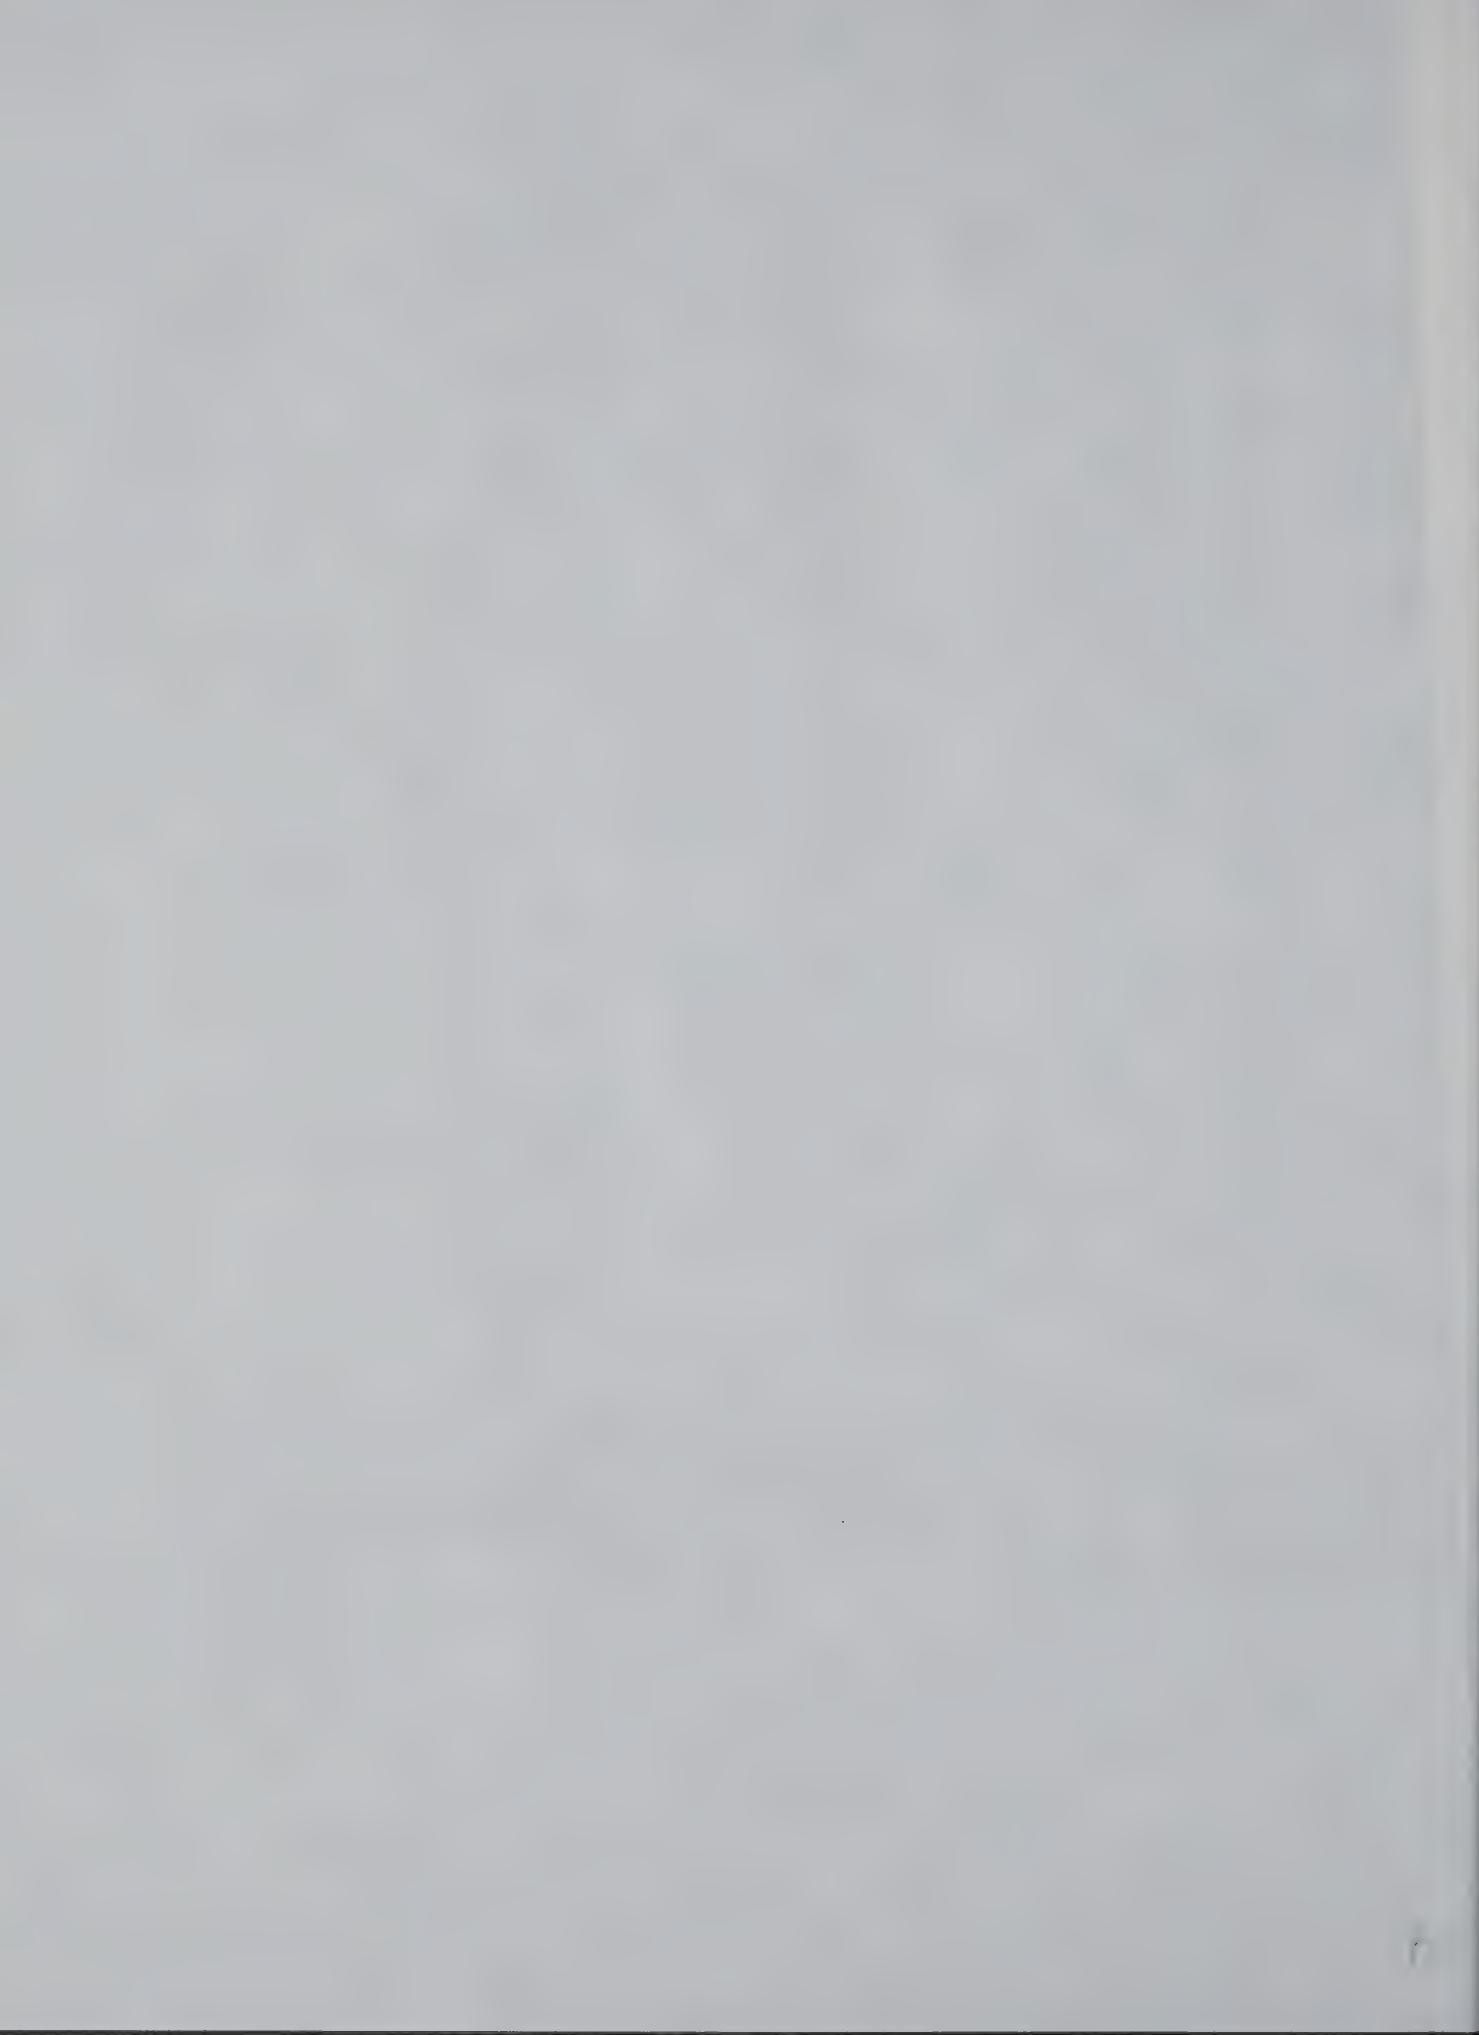

William Foster(my grandfather) married Jane Banister in 1832 or 1833. The Foster family at this time were living on the Foster farm near Pisgah, Jefferson County, Indiana, patented under Thomas Jefferson.

Judge Luke Foster, son of Timothy Foster, was born on Long Island in 1764. He married Esther Hubbell in 1792. His second marriage was to _____ Rugg in 1800. He was one of the first settlers of Columbia, Hamilton Co. Ohio. He, with his brother, Gabriel, soon formed a company of volunteers under the command of Lt. Luke Foster and marched to Cincinnati in the night, where they joined Capt. Alexander Truman.

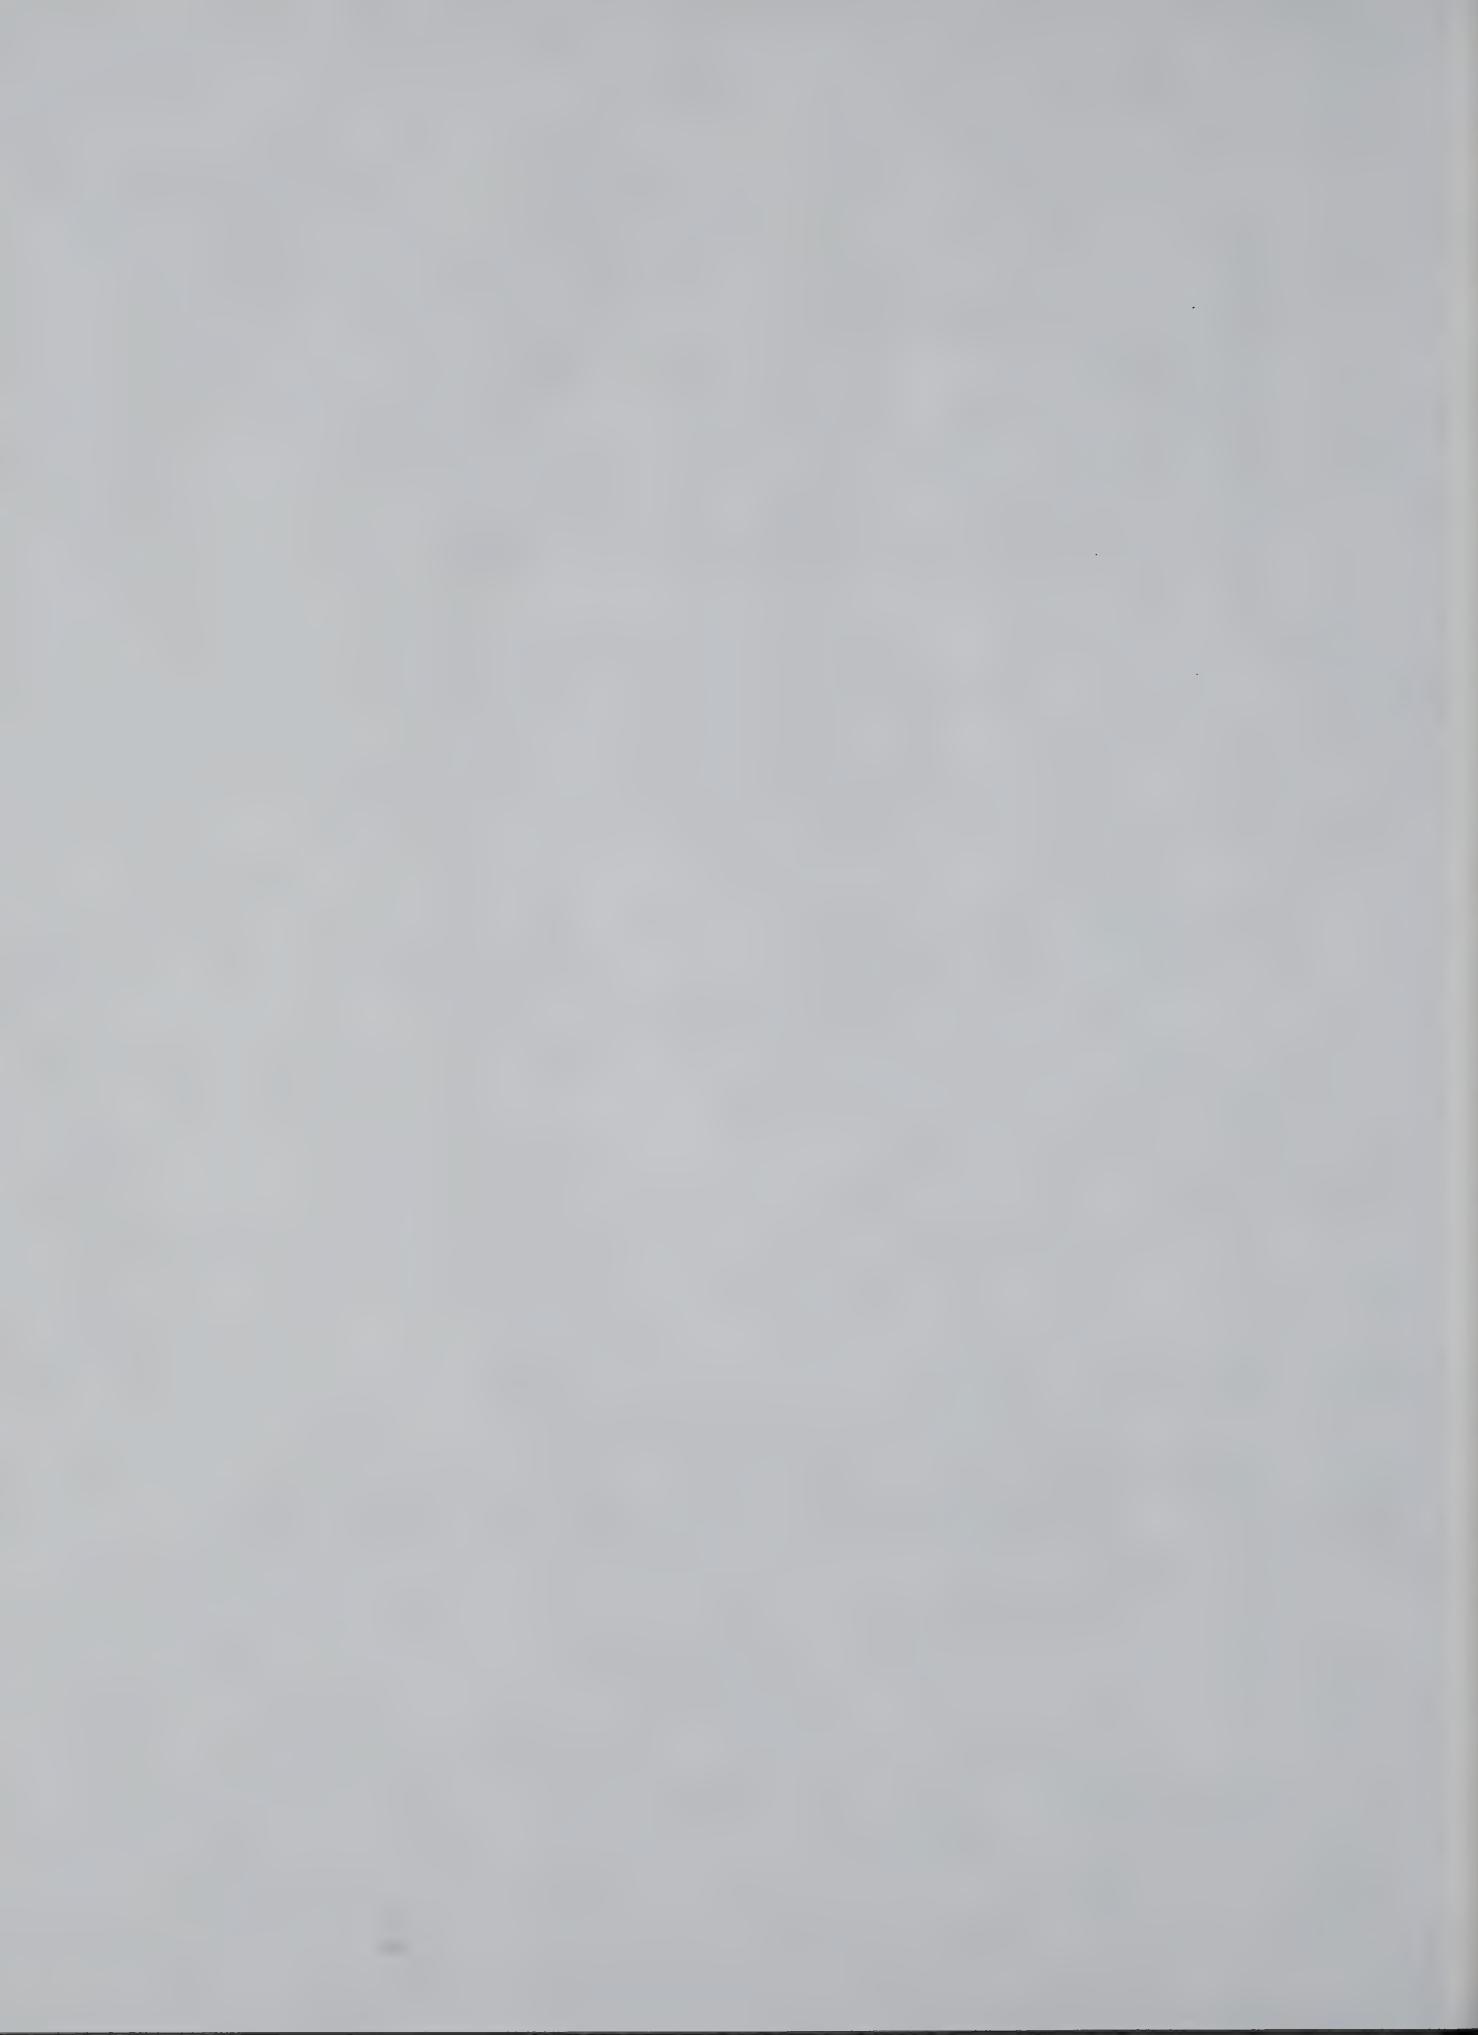

Judge Luke Foster remained in Ohio. His father and brothers moved to Indiana, near Clifty Falls, about 25 miles west. After Lt. Luke Foster and his brother, Gabriel, and volunteers joined Alexander Truman, under Lt. Scott Traverse, with 38 regular soldiers from the garrison at Ft. Washington, they all mounted and marched to Cincinnati in the night.

Lt. Luke Foster was appointed "Lt." by Governor St. Clair. He was one of the first associate judges of the Commonpleas Court. He died on his farm near Springdale, Hamilton Co. Ohio, age 87 years, August 28, 1851.

William J. Foster was born Jan. 25, 1810, Hamilton Co. Ohio, in Columbia. He married Jane Banister of Brookville, Indiana. They were married in Scipio in 1832. Jane Banister was born Oct. 30, 1811 and died Nov. 3, 1891. Her husband died 1883. They were buried in Mt. Washington, Ohio on the Foster-Dryden lot. They moved to Ohio in 1869 from Indiana, Poplar Ridge, 18 miles from Madison. William was in business in Lexington, Ind. also with my father, Thomas Dryden, and in Paris, Ind. during the Civil War in 1864.

47

GLENN.

The following records of the Glenn family are in Jefferson County, Indiana. Part of the family lived in Switz. Co.

According to the records, we find five brothers and two sisters who came from Scotland here; William, Robert, John, David and James Glenn and Ann & Janet Glenn.

William married Cora Rous of Vevay; he was a boiler maker by trade; worked in New Orleans, where he saw a new boat from the North; it was named the "Cora" after Cora Rous of Vevay. William said he would look up that girl when he came North, which he did and married her. The Rous family came from England to America during the War of 1812. Mr. Rous was here first and built a home and sent for his family. When the family started across the ocean, the ship was captured and the family were prisoners of war at Halifax for 5 weeks. Mr. Rous was waiting in New York and met every ship that came in during that time. The first morning he failed to go the ship came in to New York. It is told by a descendant that Wm. Glenn worked in Cincinnati before he went to farming and would sometimes visit in the Calodonia neighborhood. Would walk from Cincinnati to Egypt bottom and visit the Boyles overnight & walk the rest of the trip next day. When going back he would retrace his steps to the city.

Taken from Greensburg Gazette; June 5, 1819;

Died in Fairfield Township, Ligonier Valley, second inst.
(1819) Abraham Hendricks, Sr, Esquire. He represented this County for some time in State Legislature; has since held office of Justice of the Peace and at all times in the true sense of a Peacemaker, his manner & uniform integrity of conduct much endeared him to the Society in which he lived.

There is mentioned in Penn. Archives, Westmoreland Co. a Capt. Hendricks, no given name. We cannot claim him. It took me years to convince to convince the powers that be, that my Abraham Hendricks was not of Bucks Co. as claimed by Egel, Historian of Pa. and that my Hendricks was an officer. Most, maybe all Indiana Hendricks went in on the Abraham Hendricks private of Bucks Co. I've sent corrections. Hope they correct.

There is only one hitch in the lineage; the father of Judge Abraham Hendricks--who was his mother, Mary Ryon, Mary Todd, or Mary ____? You see Abraham had a brother Daniel; Abraham had a son, Daniel; Daniel had a son, Daniel; And the native born William Hendricks, L.I., who mar. WHO CAME TO MADISON, INDIANA
FROM ADAMS CO. PENNSYLVANIA.

The KING family.

Letters relating to the family of Victor & John King.

Lane, Pa. Dec. 26, 1898

Major Robert Bell,
Hunterstown, Pa.

Dear Sir; My reason for writing to you is that I have been informed that you are connected with the King family, some of the first settlers of Adams County. In a history of Adams County mention is made of Victor King and his children. It seems as if the details must have been taken from a family record, for the author says some of the dates are illegible. Those are some of the very dates that I would like to find. Can you tell me whether there is such an original family record anywhere, and if so, who has it now and how can I get to see it?

Yours, F.H.B.

Granite Hill, Pa. Adams Co.
December 27, 1898.

F.H.Breneman, Esq.
Dear Sir;

Your letter addressed to me at Huntertown has reached me. In reference to the information asked for, I do not think I will be able to give it although the Victor King you allude to as the first settler of this portion of Adams Co. was my Great-grandfather and my Grandmother, whom I recollect, was a daughter of Victor King.

Her maiden name was Martha King. My wife's maiden name was King. Her father was Jacob King, whose father was Hugh King, whose father was Victor King, the person you speak of in your letter.

I suppose I can give you the date of their birth, that is, of Hugh & Martha, children of Victor King. But I am not sure that I will be able to find the record of their children. The Kings are all gone from the locality. My wife and myself are near seventy years of age, are descendants of the younger branches, while any family records, we suppose, went with the older branches.

Yours resp.

Robert Bell.

Granite Hill, Pa. Jan. 2, 1899.

F.H.Breneman,
Dear Sir;

Yours of Dec. 28th recd. I will give you all the information in my power. I have often heard my mother speak of her uncle, William King of Dayton, Ohio, and of her having seen him a few times in her young days before she was married when he rode horseback all the way east, about 400 miles to attend Presbytery. My mother died in 1833, almost 90 years of age.

Victor King, who is buried in the graveyard of our old Presbyterian church at Hunterstown, and the father of the above named William, was married twice, and was the father of 12 children, of whom William was the fifth, and was in the war of 1755, Brad-docks Defeat, in company with McPherson, one of the ancestors of Hon. Edward McPherson.

Since receiving your letter I have visited Hugh King, one of our oldest citizens (aged 85) a grandson of Hugh King, & a grand-nephew of William King of Dayton, Ohio. He has the family record of Victor King (the pioneer) and also of Hugh King in his possession, all in Victor King's hand writing. But the trouble is after the first three children's birth is all right running from 1752 to 1757, the one next to William is missing; all the rest from there down the date is torn off, or rather worn off, including the date of William King's birth. But I would suppose from comparing dates above that William was born about 1762 although he may have been born in 1761.

When I was young I recollect being taken to visit my mother's aunt, Mrs. Susan Wilson (nee King) who was Victor King's youngest daughter, and half sister to William King of Dayton, Ohio.

There is no doubt in the world that William King who first settled Dayton, Ohio, was the son of Victor King, who lived & died on the banks of Conewago Creek in this county, and was one of the first settlers on the locality.

The only memento of any of the old Kings that I have is the Registers copy of the will of William King, a brother of Victor, and uncle of William King of Dayton, Ohio.

You can tell your friend that the house built by Victor King in which William King of Dayton was born, is still standing & in quite good repair, & used as the dwelling house on the farm as it was 150 years ago.

If you have any doubt as to the reliability of the above, or to what extent I may be believed, I would refer you to Capt. E. McMellen of Lancaster, an old army friend, who is well acquainted with me.

Yours resp. Robert Bell.

F. H. Breneman,
Dear Sir;

In reference to the church dismissal of William King by Rev. Jno. Black of Upper Marsh Creek in 1789, I have no doubt that is all correct as I know from some church history that I have read that a Presbyterian minister of that name preached to Upper Marsh Creek at about that date. All vestige of the church is gone with the exception of the old graveyard, still known as Black's graveyard. From the best recollection of what my mother told me, Victor King married twice, & that at his death his widow married Samuel McConanghey. The last of Susan Wilson's children died only a few years ago & left no survivors in this county.

As to the date of Victor King's birth, I know nothing. There is no record of him or his brother William & James that I ever heard of. All I know, through my mother, who was a granddaughter of Victor King, was that they were Scotch Irish Presbyterians & that they settled on the banks of Big Conewago Creek in Tyrone two Adams Co. in or about 1735, the first settlers there, and that Victor King built the first mill on the stream in what is now Adams County.

There is no church record that will give any information on the subject. Victor King & I think both of his brothers are marked with tombstones in the old graveyard at our church. The house Victor King built is standing yet in good state of preservation a little over four miles from where I am writing.

Yours,

Robert Bell.

F.H.Breneman,
Dear Sir;

Your letter arrived safely & I cannot thank you enough for the copy of Victor King's will. He was our great-grandfather. Some 25 years ago I read a copy of this will that was in the hands of an old Miss Wilson, a grand daughter of Victor, & daughter of Susannah King, but she died soon after & on inquiry the old will could not be found. Martha King was one of the legatees, and was my grandmother & Hugh King, one of the executors, was my wife's grandfather.

As to the large Bible that was willed to John King, I am going to try to trace it, if possible, as I have an idea where it might be. Also the copy of Flavel. The other copy of Flavel is the one left to Hugh & is now owned by Hugh King's grandson, who is 85 years old.

Hugh King, executor of Victor King was in the Revolutionary War, was taken prisoner at the battle of Long Island, was billeted out by the British on a family by the name of Vorhis or as now spelled, Vorhees, he fell in love with the daughter, Abigail, & after the war, rode back to Long Island, married the daughter, & carried his wife behind him on horseback all the way from Long Island to the banks of Big Conewago Creek in York Co. now Adams. It was cold weather & she carried a wooden foot stove lined with sheet iron, and that stove is still owned by her grandson, Hugh King. My wife was Abigail King. This is a little bit of family history.

My grandfather, James Bell, was a soldier of the Revolution. Clerked at General Knox's headquarters nearly all the time.

Resp.

Robert Bell.

Was exchanged in 1780, married Abigail Vorhis and died May 21, 1811.

F.H.Breneman,
Dear Sir;

I have found the old Bible that is spoken of in William King's Will and left by him to his nephew, John King. It is in the possession of the Kisses McCurdy of Gettysburg, Pa. maiden ladies & lineal descendants of Victor & John King.

But when I found the Bible I am still at my string's end, as there is nothing in it to show who William King's father was nor any record of Victor or James, nothing but the family record of John King, the legatee of the Bible.

The following is very plainly inscribed in the inside of the back;

"William King, his book, Sep. 29, 1770."

And then a record at proper place of birth and marriage of Jno. King, whose daughter Nancy King, married William McCurdy, and whose son was the father of the persons who now have the Bible. There is no doubt of this John King being the son of Victor King, as my mother always called him Uncle John King. I am sorry the record chosed.

Yours, Robert Bell.

(Marian Breneman)

My dear Niece;

Sometime ago while on a trip to Gettysburg & the vicinity, I went to see the place that had been the homestead of your great-great grandfather, Victor King. (you have the photo.)

The homestead lies in Tyrone township, Adams Co. about nine or ten miles north-east of Gettysburg. The deed bk in the office of York shows that on June 17, 1755, Victor King bought a tract of four hundred & one &  $\frac{1}{2}$  acres in Tyrone township, York Co.

Although the roof and weatherboarding must have been renewed, the house is believed to be substantially as Victor King built it, and as he left it. The barn also, is evidently very old and was probably built by Victor King also.

I had hoped to learn something in regard to the question of what was the birthplace of these three brothers, Victor, William and James King, or the region whence they emigrated, but in that I was disappointed. I called at the house of Mr. Hugh King, a very aged man, somewhat in his dotage, a great grandson of Victor King.

I saw there the book "John Flavel" which Victor King bequeathed to his son, Hugh King, the grandfather of the present Hugh. The book is a large folio about the size of a pulpit Bible. On the title page is written "Victor King, his book". It contains the record of Victor King's children, but part of the leaf with the record has been torn away. Some of the writing that remains has faded very much and some has become entirely illegible. The records runs thus;

Jean King	was born on the 16th Nov. 1746.
Hugh King	17th Jan. 1750
John King	22d Sep. 1753
Agnes King	10th Mar. 1756
Victor King	30th July, 1753
Martha King
Susannah King
William King
Samuel Moffett King
James King
Thomas King.

William King, brother of Victor King, in his will, bequeathed to his nephew, John King, son of Victor, "my large Bible & and my half of Flavel's Body of Divinity."

That Bible is in the possession of the Misses McCurdy, descendants of John King. Nothing could be found in it concerning Victor King, nothing concerning the place from where the brothers came.

The will of your great-great grand uncle, William King, and of Victor, show that slaves were held in Penna. in those days. William appears to have been pretty well supplied with them, but your great-grandfather, William, held different views upon the subject of slavery.

Information collected by F.H. & Charles A. Breneman in 1900. Sent to Miss Marian Breneman of Dayton, Ohio, who sent them on to me to copy. M.Hill.

Victor, William and James King, three brothers were Scotch Irish Presbyterians--settled on banks of the Big Caneaway Creek in Tyrone township. Adams Co. Pa. in or about 1735--the first settlers there.

Victor King purchased June 7, 1755, 40½ acres in Tyrone township. York Co. about 9 or 10 miles NE of Gettysburg; built house & mill(I have been in the house several times & tramped over the old farm). In the graveyard several miles away the graves of the three brothers cannot be located among others of the family & there are no church records.

Tradition says Victor King was at Braddock's defeat in 1755; but official papers show he was in the Army raised for the expedition of 1758 against Fort Duquesne, commanded by General Forbes. He was Lieut. in Capt. Thomas Hamilton's company, 3d Batt. Hugh Mercer, Colonel Commandant. See Penn. Archives, 2d Series, Vol 2, pp. 482-483.

Misses McCurdy, Gettysburg, lineal descendants of Victor King, had the old Bible that belonged to Wm. King, brother of Victor. I have photo of the Victor King home taken about 1900, the log house had later been clap-boarded.

A letter dated June 6, 1758 says that Victor King's commission bore date of May 16, 1758 & that the officers had all then been sworn in. See Pa. Archives 1756-1770; pg. 410.

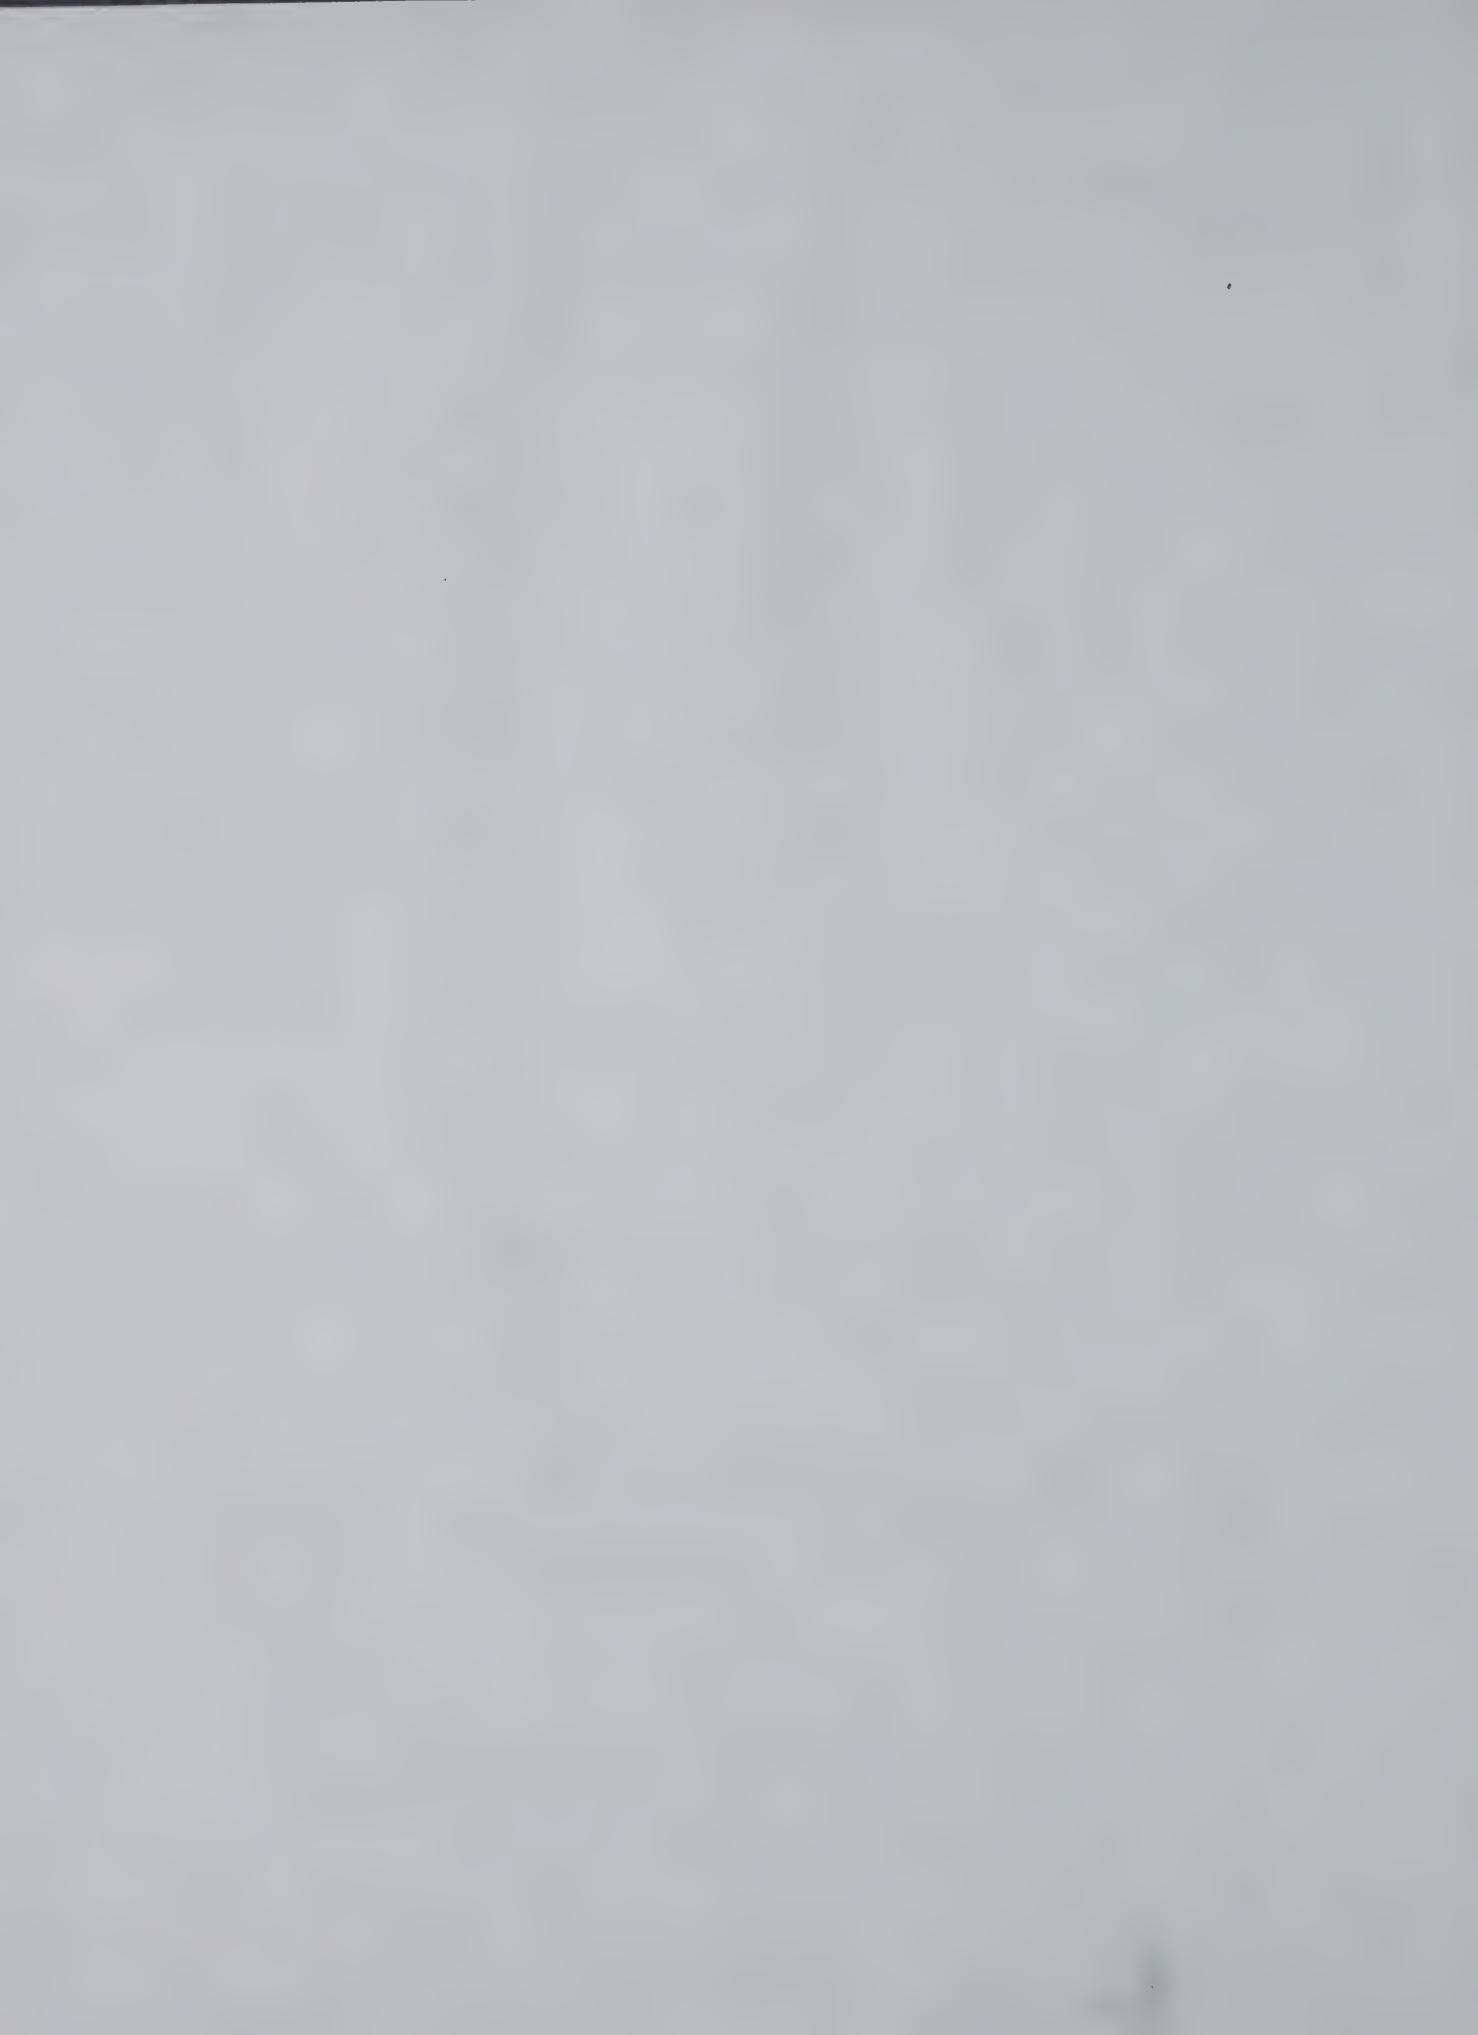

Although there were four persons bearing precisely the same name, the points mentioned served to identify your great grandfather, as the William King, son of Victor King.

Victor King's Will was made, Oct. 25, 1774 & probated Apr. 27, 1775. It is recorded in Will bk. C; pg. 288; recorders office, York, Pa. Abstract of Will of Wm. King, brother of Victor, York, Pa 1794.

William King, son of Victor, came to Ky. & then objecting to slavery came to Dayton, Ohio. He used to ride horseback 400 miles to attend Presbytery. He lived with my grandmother, Mary C. (Samuel having died) till death in 1863. His desire was to see the slaves freed & lived till after the Emancipation Proclamation. I was told in Gettysburg that he gave material to Harriet Beecher Stowe for Uncle Tom's Cabin.

Letter of Julia D. Craven, written about 1900.

My dear Miss Breneman;

In working out this Waugh line--I came across the marriage of Nancy Waugh to William King & thinking this may be of some help or interest to you, am sending it on to you. I am more interested in completion of the Thomas McKee line, but Mrs. Moffatt sent me all her family data--then went to Calif. so I am working at long distance--& have not started in as yet. I find a fine book on York-Adams Co. Pa. & much in about Victor King. It is quite an old book but new in the library & I really have not had time to study it--the most interesting thing so far was a letter written in Charlestown, S.C. to Mrs. Moffatt's grandmother in 1824 in which the writer, Susan L. Waugh sent two silhouettes of herself and brother. Mrs. Moffatt sent them to me & I returned them. The letter was addressed to Millerstown, Adams Co. by bearer, Mr. James Waugh to Miss Nancy McKee, 1824, who was about to marry her cousin, James McKee. The brother's name was Albert, & Mrs. Moffatt says her grandfather, James McKee (her grandparents were cousins) had a cousin who studied medicine in a Philadelphia College by the name of Jesse Albert Waugh--so I'm looking into this--he may be the same lad as the picture. Mrs. Moffatt, wife of the Rev. David Moffatt of Madison, Indiana, before her marriage was Susan Waugh Moffett, her mother Maria Jane McKee--having married Samuel S. Moffett in 1852. So you see how the name Susannah & Samuel Moffett came also in the Victor King family--so far it is too much for me.

You know in the list of Victor King's children was Thomas child of a second marriage, who later went to Madison, Ind. to live. I intend to investigate this for the names of his brothers were James & Samuel Moffett King--at first I believed their mother was a Susan Moffett, but if so why would your William name his son Samuel Moffett? If you can solve any of this--will be glad to have it--will send you a copy of my research along this line and more of the early Waughs.

Sincerely yours,
Julia I. Craven.
